

Appendix "A"

"lock"

In: Merriam-Webster's Third New International Dictionary

Unabridged (1986), p. 1328

lock \ˈlɒk/ n -s [ME lok, fr. OE loc; akin to OE lūcan to lock, close, OHG loh enclosure, prison, cave, opening, OHG lūhhan to close, ON lok, loka lock of a door, lūka to close, Goth galūkan to enclose, usluk opening, OE locc lock of hair — more at 'LOCK] 1 a : a fastening (as for a door, box, trunk lid, drawer) in which a bolt is secured by any of various mechanisms and can be released by inserting and turning a key or by operating a special device (as a combination, time clock, automatic release button, magnetic solenoid)